

TOM COOPER

Biography

Mr. Tom Cooper is Manager and a Director of Pecos Valley Machine Company. As the Manager, he is involved in all aspects of the machining, repairing, fabrication and renovation operations. He has over 40 years of experience in all facets of machining production and has been with Pecos Valley Machine Company and its predecessor company his entire career.

During his 40-year career, Mr. Cooper has acquired in-depth knowledge of machining operations to include welding, coatings and fabrication. His acquired expert management skills provide his ability to establish policy, direct employees and to manage the production scheduling of projects to obtain the most efficient methods of product completion. His experience has ensured the selection and training of the most highly qualified machinists. This allows effective cost control and lower production costs for the customer. Through his management style, he instills a sense of dedication in his highly skilled, efficient employees who are dedicated to excellence in work production.

Through his years of experience working with large machinery and heavy equipment, Mr. Cooper has become familiar with most types and makes of heavy and light farm, oilfield and agriculture equipment. His developed ability to recognize and analyze problems and understand efficient solutions has ensured an expanded base of satisfied customers. With his 40 years of machining, repairs and renovations, he has an understanding of the need to apply his exacting standards of quality processes.

Mr. Cooper's positive "can-do" approach to all problems and applying his analytical skills in designing and creating a variety of machined solutions to any customer request or problem has ensured an extensive customer base from many industries.